Film criticism Main article: Film criticism If a movie can illuminate the lives of other people who share this planet with us and show us not only how different they are but, how even so, they share the same dreams and hurts, then it deserves to be called great. The first public screenings of films at which admission was charged were made in 1895 by the American Woodville Latham and his sons, using films produced by their Eidoloscope company,2 and by the – arguably better known – French brothers Auguste and Louis Lumière with ten of their own productions.citation needed Private screenings had preceded these by several months, with Lathams slightly predating the Lumière brothers.citation needed

Education and propaganda Main articles: Educational film and Propaganda film. Film is used for a range of goals, including education and propaganda. When the purpose is primarily educational, a film is called an educational film. Examples are recordings of academic lectures and experiments, or a film based on a classic novel. Film may be propaganda, in whole or in part, such as the films made by Leni Riefenstahl in Nazi Germany, US war film trailers during World War II, or artistic films made under Stalin by Sergei Eisenstein. They may also be works of political protest, as in the films of Andrzej Wajda, or more subtly, the films of Andrei Tarkovsky. The same film may be considered educational by some, and propaganda by others as the categorization of a film can be subjective.

The lack of theatrical releases from Hollywood studios resulted in an anime film—Demon Slayer: Mugen Train—becoming the first-ever non-Hollywood film to top the annual worldwide box office. The film benefited from Japans relative control of the pandemic at the time of its release, the popularity of the franchise, and reduced competition from international films.120121 With both Los Angeles and New York City having allowed cinemas to reopen by March 2021, it was expected that film distributors would be more confident in releasing higher-profile films.122123 During that month, Disney announced that Black Widow would open in theaters on July 9, 2021 and would also be available on Disney+ the same day with Premier Access, following the same release strategy that was used for one of the companys other films, Raya and the Last Dragon.124 Two more of Disneys films, Cruella and Jungle Cruise, were also given this hybrid release.124125
